PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Experienced and results-driven Project Manager, Facilitator and Monitoring and evaluation professional with a passion for empowering young girls through education and skill-building programs. With a strong background in managing community-driven initiatives, I specialize in leading and coordinating projects that foster leadership, confidence, and personal growth in adolescent girls. Proven ability to develop and execute strategies that ensure the success of programs like Energize Her, with a focus on creating impactful, sustainable outcomes. Skilled in stakeholder engagement, team leadership, and resource management, I am committed to driving positive social change and providing young girls with the tools to succeed in an ever-changing world.

KEY ACHIVEMENTS

- Successfully increased the participation of women and girls in the energy sector by 30% over the course of two years.
- Developed a comprehensive training program on gender-sensitive energy solutions for 150+ women and girls across multiple regions.
- Led the design of a GBV prevention program integrated with climate change adaptation efforts, which was adopted by local government entities in several districts.
- Played a key role in the publication of a policy brief on gender equality in energy access, influencing national level discussions on sustainable energy policies.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Program Manager Energize Her Project | Green Girls organization, Lilongwe District

- Lead and manage the Energize Her project, a program aimed at empowering women and girls in the energy sector through capacity building, mentorship, and advocacy for gender equality in energy systems.
- Collaborate with local and international partners to design and implement sustainable energy solutions that improve access to clean energy for women in underserved communities, with a focus on reducing gender inequalities.
- Integrate climate change adaptation strategies into the project to build climate-resilient communities while ensuring that women are at the forefront of solutions.
- Address complex issues of gender-based violence (GBV), sexual and reproductive health, and mental health in the context of climate change and energy access, ensuring that interventions are designed with an intersectional approach.
- Lead community-based research and data collection efforts, gathering evidence on the impact of energy access and GBV, which informs program design and policy recommendations.
- Provide training and capacity-building to local stakeholders, including women in rural and marginalized communities, to improve their engagement in energy decision-making processes and raise awareness on sexual and reproductive health rights and mental well-being.
- Monitor and evaluate program performance through the collection and analysis of data, ensuring that gender sensitive metrics are applied to track progress toward gender equality and empowerment objectives.
- Advocate for policy changes that promote gender equity in energy systems, climate change policies, and health sectors, working closely with governmental and non-governmental organizations.
